2012 OUTLOOK

Season Outlook

The Ohio State women's tennis team has shown the ability to sustain success and is now aiming to take winning to another level. Chuck Merzbacher helms the Buckeyes for the 16th season and the program's all-time winningest coach has the luxury of a seasoned upperclassman group and talented freshmen and sophomores heading into the 2012 campaign.

The Buckeyes are a season removed from a record breaking 2009-10 season that saw the team break school records for wins (20), shutouts (10) and its highest Intercollegiate Tennis Association ranking at No. 17. That team finished the season with a 4-1 win over DePaul in the opening round of the NCAA tournament, notching the first NCAA victory for the Buckeyes since 2004. Last year, Ohio State accumulated a 15-11 record, including a 7-3 Big Ten ledger, to finish tied for third with Purdue in the conference standings. The finish was the best for the Buckeyes since taking second in 2004.

Ohio State must adapt to the loss of Cami Hubbs and Paloma Escobedo. Both left marks in the program's history books in singles and doubles. Hubbs finished seventh in singles with 77 wins, while Escobedo tallied 66 victories to place 15th. In doubles, Hubbs and Escobedo wrapped up their collegiate careers at ninth and 12th with 82 and 79 wins, respectively. The duo played a part in 69 team victories over its four years with the Buckeyes.

THE LINEUP

The squad returns seven from last season, including senior Kelsey Haviland, who was named Second Team All-Big Ten after downing a trio of ranked conference opponents at No. 1 in the place of an injured Escobedo. The junior class of Kara Cecil, Fidan Manashirova and Gabby Steele has combined for 117 singles victories and 91 doubles wins over the past two seasons. The sophomore group of Kelsey Becker, Tiffany Dittmer and Noelle Malley tallied 25 singles wins and 24 doubles victories during the 2010-11 campaign.

Freshmen Kelsey Dieters and Nicole Flower join the Ohio State program this season. Dieters, a native of Shelby Township, Mich., played No. 1 singles at Rochester High School throughout her career and recorded a pair of undefeated seasons before finishing with 107 wins and two state championships. Her superb play led to a No. 1 ranking in Michigan and a No. 35 national ranking as a five-star recruit. Classmate Flower enjoyed similar success at Upper Arlington High in Upper Arlington, Ohio, as she earned the No. 1 ranking in Ohio following a 125-win career that led to a singles state championship in 2010. Both players earned National High School Tennis All-America accolades.

Senior Kelsey Haviland joined an elite list of Buckeyes in 2011, becoming the eighth player to earn All-Big Ten status in singles following a 14-win effort. Playing at No. 1 in place of Escobedo, Haviland picked up a trio of ranked wins against Iowa's Sonja Molnar (No. 114), Michigan State's Amy Barton (No. 121) and Minnesota's Natalia Pintusava (No. 74).

Gabby Steele bested the 20-win mark in singles for the second-consecutive season with 21 after leading the team with 25 as a freshman. The junior played as high as No. 2 in the spring, but shined at the No. 4 spot, earning a 9-1 record. The Cincinnati, Ohio, native's efforts in Big Ten doubles were unmatched as Steele teamed with Manashirova and Haviland to post a team-leading 8-2 conference ledger.

Classmate Fidan Manashirova enjoyed her share of success during the 2010-11 season, leading the team with 27 singles wins, including a superb 8-2 record in conference action. Named co-MVP with Cami Hubbs, Manashirova led the team with 10 wins in the fall while riding a 14-match win streak from Nov. 5 to Feb. 26. The Elk Grove, Calif., native ended the season on a six-match unbeaten streak after downing Wisconsin's Jessica Seyferth in the Buckeyes' comeback victory in the quarterfinals of the Big Ten tournament.

Junior Kara Cecil took the phrase "sophomore slump" and flipped it on its head, improving her singles wins from four as a freshman to 21 last year. Doubles was no exception as she improved from three to 17 a season ago. Her effort led to being named Most Improved on the team. The Plant City, Fla., native notched six singles wins and six doubles victories in conference play, including an upset of 117th-ranked Breanne Smutko of Illinois.

Noelle Malley led the freshman trio with 11 singles wins in the fall and tied the team high in doubles with partner Kara Cecil with 17. The Kansas City, Mo., native earned a singles title at the Big Green Invitational in the fall before appearing in eight dual matches in the spring. Malley recorded wins against Big Ten foes Iowa and Illinois in singles, while tallying a 6-3 Big Ten record in doubles with Cecil.

Fellow sophomore Tiffany Dittmer used her first year on campus to adjust to not only life in college, but also life in the United States. The Hamburg, Germany native received the Coaches' Award in recognition of her effort in the adjustment. On the court, Dittmer posted seven singles wins, including a pair in the spring at No. 6 against South Florida and Eastern Michigan.

Sophomore Kelsey Becker notched seven singles wins and five doubles victories in her first year on campus a season ago. The Granite Bay, Calif., native was especially impressive at the Ohio State Varsity Open in the fall, finishing runner-up in singles and claiming the doubles title alongside teammate Fidan Manashirova.

A LOOK BACK AT THE FALL

Ohio State opened its fall slate by hosting the Muirfield Collegiate Tennis Invitational at the Country Club at Muirfield Village in Dublin, Ohio, Sept. 16-18. The Buckeyes combined to post 15 victories, including 11 singles wins. Freshman Kelsey Dieters earned her first collegiate victory against Claire McNulty of Dayton at the event. Dieters and Cecil notched an upset of 60th-ranked Fellerhoff and Shine from Louisville in consolation action.

Malley led the Buckeyes in action at the Martha Thorn Invitational hosted by West Virginia Oct. 7-9. The sophomore scored four singles victories to take home the Flight A singles title, capped off by a win over WVU's Emily Mathis in the championship match. The performance earned Malley Big Ten Athlete of the Week honors Oct. 12, the first of her career.

The Buckeyes followed up as hosts of the USTA/ITA Midwest Regional. Dittmer notched a pair of victories to earn a berth into main draw singles, while Cecil and Steele both reached the main draw Round of 16 before falling to opponents from Notre Dame and DePaul. Cecil teamed with Dieters to reach the doubles quarterfinals, as well.

Ohio State closed the fall with a trip to Tempe, Ariz., for the Arizona State Thunderbird Invitational Nov. 4-6. The team tallied six singles victories and four doubles wins at the event, which featured competition from fellow Big Ten schools Michigan and Northwestern.

CHUCK MERZBACHER

Head Coach
16th season

Now in his 16th season as the head coach of the Ohio State women's tennis team, Chuck Merzbacher is keeping the Buckeyes in the national spotlight. Already the winningest coach in Ohio State program history, Merzbacher's teams have enjoyed success both on and off the court. He has led the squad to the NCAA tournament nine times, including three of the past four years and six-consecutive trips from 1999-04.

With a total of 22 years of head coaching experience to his credit, Merzbacher has collected 357 career wins, 224 coming at Ohio State. His teams have won seven conference titles, made 12 visits to the NCAA tournament and six individuals have earned All-America honors.

His teams also have produced in the classroom. Last season, seven Buckeyes earned Ohio State Scholar-Athlete honors and four were named to the Academic All-Big Ten team. In total, Merzbacher has coached 38 Ohio State Scholar-Athletes and 31 Academic All-Big Ten athletes.

Merzbacher was not new to the state of Ohio or the Big Ten Conference when he was named the Ohio State coach in 1996. The Findlay native was the 1983 Ohio High School State Champion and a collegiate player at the University of Minnesota. He graduated from Minnesota in 1987 with a bachelor's degree in sociology and an outstanding tennis record.

Merzbacher was the all-time career victories leader at Minnesota with 137 and a three-time All-Big Ten selection. During his first collegiate season, Merzbacher won the Big Ten Conference No. 4 singles title.

Merzbacher served as Minnesota's assistant coach in 1987 before turning pro. During his professional career (1987-89), Merzbacher was ranked as high as No. 354 in singles and No. 335 in doubles. He played in both the Australian Open and the Wimbledon qualifier in 1989.

In his first season at the helm for the Buckeyes (1996-97), Merzbacher led his squad to a 12-13 overall record, going 4-7 in the Big Ten. In 1997-98, Merzbacher improved Ohio State's standing in the conference with an eighth-place finish and a 10-14 overall record.

In his third year, Merzbacher carried the Buckeyes to their best record in the Big Ten with wins over Indiana, a first since 1978, and Michigan, a first since 1989. After the success of the season, Merzbacher received the highest honor from his peers by being named the 1999 Big Ten Coach of the Year.

That 1999 squad held a 14-11 overall mark, a 6-4 Big Ten mark and a sixth-place standing in the conference, which then was the highest ever by an OSU squad. The season ended with another historical note as the Buckeyes made a run for the NCAA championship. It also was the first time in program history Ohio State had a team, a singles player and a doubles team all qualify for the NCAA tournament.

In the 1999-00 season, Merzbacher led his squad to an 18-8 record. The team was a perfect 11-0 at home and went 9-1 in the Big Ten while claiming the first regular-season conference title in program history. They finished the season tied for first in the Big Ten after the regular season. The Buckeyes won their first NCAA tournament match with a 5-3 victory over Miami (Fla.) in the first round.

In 2000-01, the Buckeyes recorded one of the best campaigns in history. The team compiled a 17-11 record and was 7-3 in conference play. The Buckeyes achieved a program-high ranking of No. 19 and finished third in the Big Ten. For the third consecutive season, the Buckeyes had a team, singles player and doubles team qualify for the NCAA championships. The squad also was invited to participate in the prestigious ITA National Team Indoor Championship.

In the 2001 NCAA singles tournament, Kristy Dascoli, the four-time team MVP, advanced to the quarterfinals and then teamed up with Monica Rincon to advance to the quarterfinals in the doubles championship. Individually, the squad had Ohio State's first two All-Americans, Dascoli and Rincon, the Big Ten Player of the Year in Dascoli and two all-conference selections.

In 2001-02, the Buckeyes posted a record of 19-7, setting the school record for wins in a season. The squad continued its dominance at home, winning a program-best 14-consecutive home matches and setting the school record for home victories (14). The team earned a berth in the NCAA tournament, while All-Big Ten honoree Rincon qualified for the singles championship.

The 2002-03 team, despite playing only seven of its 24 matches at home, tied for fourth in the Big Ten with a 6-4 record. The Buckeyes upset No. 19 Northwestern in the home finale en route to their fifth-consecutive berth into the NCAA tournament.

The 2003-04 season tied the deepest run into the NCAA tournament for an Ohio State squad, where they defeated host Harvard for the program's second NCAA tournament victory. The team also went deeper into the Big Ten tournament than ever before, making to the title match against Northwestern.

Ohio State saw renewed success during the 2007-08 season, as the Buckeyes tied the program high for wins with 19 and returned to the NCAA tournament. Merzbacher also helped coach two Buckeyes, freshman Cami Hubbs and junior Julie Blackmore to single-season singles and doubles wins records.

After reaching the NCAA tournament again in 2009, Merzbacher led Ohio State to a program-record 20 wins during the 2009-10 season, including a record 10 shutout victories, on the way to a first-round win over DePaul in the NCAA tournament.

After losing two-time All-Big Ten athlete Kirsten Flower and four-year contributor Christina Keesey, Merzbacher regrouped and led the Buckeyes to a third-place tie with Purdue in the Big Ten. The conference finish was the best for Ohio State since finishing second in the Big Ten in 2004.

Merzbacher began his coaching career in 1989 at Northern Illinois University as the men's tennis coach. He coached for three seasons, leading the Huskies to a 50-34 record and earning back-to-back Mid-Continent Coach of the Year titles.

Merzbacher left NIU to become the women's tennis head coach at the University of Kansas in 1992. During his four-year KU coaching career, Merzbacher led the team to four of its five-consecutive Big Eight Conference championships and three trips to the NCAA tournament, including a quarterfinal finish in 1994. He was named the 1993 and 1994 Big Eight Coach of the Year and the 1994 Central Region Coach of the Year.

During his four years at Kansas, Merzbacher coached four All-Americans and three Rolex All-Stars. His players captured four ITA National Collegiate Grand Slam Events, including the 1994 NCAA Doubles Championship. Seven times, the Jayhawks had finalists in the ITA National Collegiate Grand Slam tournaments (including a singles runner-up in the 1996 NCAA Championships). Merzbacher left Kansas with an 83-29 overall record and a 39-1 conference record.

MELISSA SCHAUB

Assistant Coach
1st season

Lexington, Ohio, native Melissa Schaub, who spent the last five years on the coaching staff at Middle Tennessee State, joined the Ohio State women's tennis program as an assistant coach in August. Schaub, a standout at the University of Tennessee, was an assistant coach for the Blue Raiders for four seasons before she was named head coach in August 2010.

Schaub played four years for the Volunteers (2003-06) and was an All-American and second team All-SEC selection as a freshman, finishing the year ranked sixth nationally. She struggled with injuries her sophomore and junior campaigns but posted 25 dual-match doubles wins.

As a senior, Schaub played at Nos. 2 and 3 singles before moving into the top position in early April where she went 3-0 in the SEC tournament. She posted 70 career doubles wins to rank in the Top 10 in program history and was ranked 44th in the NCAA in doubles her senior campaign. Schaub was a member of the SEC Good Works Team and SEC Academic Honor Roll as a senior.

Schaub was a two-sport athlete at Lexington High School, playing both tennis and basketball.
